

Marriage Ceremony

We are gathered today here in the presence of family and friends for the purpose of uniting in marriage _____ and _____, and to share in the joy of this memorable occasion.

Marriage symbolizes the intimate sharing of two lives. It is the development of a balanced relationship that is continually growing and changing. Acceptance of each other's differences and appreciation of each other's individuality creates an atmosphere of understanding and trust where not only joys and successes but also sorrows and disappointments can be shared.

Deep knowledge of each other's feelings can only develop fully with patience, genuine caring and respect. This understanding of each other can be the greatest and most fulfilling experience of your lives.

No other human ties are more tender and no other vows more important than those you now assume. If you both keep these vows, your home will be happy and full of joy.

(Will you please join hands)

The contract of marriage is most solemn and is not to be taken into lightly, but thoughtfully and seriously, and with a deep realization of its obligations and responsibilities.

_____, do you take this person _____, to be your lawful wedded spouse? Do you promise to love and comfort him/her, to honor him/her and keep him/her in sickness and in health, in prosperity and adversity, and forsaking all others, be faithful to him/her?
